

Is there aluminum in vaccines? Why?

A very small amount of aluminum salts may be added to a vaccine.

This is because aluminum salts prompt your child's body to have a stronger natural immune response to immunization.

The amount of aluminum present in vaccine is similar to the amount of aluminum naturally present in both breast milk and infant formula.