

My child has allergies... How do I know if immunization is safe?

At your child's immunization appointment, your nurse will talk to you about your child's health history before giving your child any immunization.

This will include questions about any medicines your child is taking, health conditions your child has or is experiencing, as well as any allergies your child may have.

When your nurse talks to you about your child's health history, it is important that you inform your nurse of any and all of your child's allergies before your child receives any vaccines.

Your nurse will guide you on what is safe for your child, based on your child's health history, including any allergies your child may have.
